

Rainforestman

1. The creatures of the Amazon did fascinate you so
Elusive in the forest light an obsession for you did grow
In a world remote and distant
So deep in mystery
Living among the undergrowth and trees

Chorus

Your time has come Rainforestman to leave your forest home
Your spirit flows in harmony in the jungle you have know
Your awe inspiring legacy the wondrous sites you've seen
Are captured in your photographs of wildness so extreme

2. Searching for the jaguar was dangerous and hard
Creeping snakes and alligators senses were on guard
You loved the heat and humidity
You loved the smell and sound
In this secret world a passion you had found
3. Riddled with malaria surrendered to ill health
Retreating to the Hebrides to gain some needed strength
Like a fish without its water
Like a bird without its wings
The needs of life your work could only bring
